CALL ON SHOP MEN
TO PUSH HOUSINGC. of C. Building Boosters Seek Suggestions of Home
Buyers.

A tentative plan which points to extensive building in Janesville to relieve the present home shortage, placing the working man in a position to attain his desired residence, has been worked out. The idea contains the intensive campaign which will be put on to further activities of the recently organized Building and Loan association.

The plan was devised at the meeting Wednesday of the association of local business men, and P. J. Hammur, members of the steering committee of the Chamber of Commerce and representative Janesville business men who have been selected as a committee for the advancement of the building and loan organization.

The plan in brief: It calls for the selection of representatives from every industry in the city which pays employees liability insurance. These representatives will rub elbows with the men who have to purchase their homes under such an arrangement as the association offers, predicted to offer better suggestions in the up-building of the city and relieving the home shortage than expert and high priced and fluent speaking salesman could.

The advancement committee and officers of the association will arrange for a meeting during the latter part of next week. It is expected that at this time the factory and business house representatives will be selected.

Mr. Hammur announced today that he would be at the offices of the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday evening from 7 to 9 to receive subscription payments and to sell paid-up stock and to give any information desired on the working of the organization.

July 10, without penalty, are due before a week from Saturday, July 10. Miss Charlotte Connell, chief clerk at the Chamber of Commerce, has been authorized to receive the monthly collections.

June, 1920, Heaviest
Month for Weddings
In County's History

JUNE, the month of brides, lives up to its name in Rock County this year more than ever before. Comparison of the records in the office of County Clerk Howard W. Lee shows that 30 more couples took out licenses this June than during the same month last year, or 81 as against 51.

The record for the first six months of 1920 is far ahead of that for the same period of last year. With the one license issued yesterday the total for the year to date is 278 while for all 12 months of 1919 only 370 licenses were issued.

At the present rate more than 600 licenses would be issued by the first of 1921. However, there is generally a drop during July, August and September, with a pick-up in October. But basking prophecy on the manner in which the applicants visited the court house this year during the months that ordinarily would be called "off months," an estimate of 500 for 1920 is conservative.

Prosperity and the high wages paid to labor is generally accepted as the cause for the boom in marriages. The reason that it has not been had this year is that the one couple visiting the county clerk yesterday was Roy Johnston and Alice Myrtle, both of this city.

JERSEY SUIT IS SWIMMERS' CHOICE

The real swimmer never hesitates when it comes to choosing the swimming suit. Wool jersey is the first, second and third choice. There is no material more satisfactory than jersey. It sheds the water, wears better than any other bathing suit fabric and comes in all wanted colors. It also permits of many pretty styles which are quite as attractive as satin or taffeta models.

French blue and gray is the color scheme of the bathing suit at the left. It is a one-piece model, the type trunks being fastened to the dress at the waistline. A design woven in gray emphasizes the princess style. Gray and black is the color scheme of the very simple model at the right. This is made on much the same lines as the other suit except that it has a much shorter skirt and has merely a narrow belt of black designating the waist line. The bathing suit pictured below is suitable for the kiddies, either boys or girls. It is a little one-piece model with tights of solid color and waist of striped jersey.

500,000 BASS FRY
PLACED IN RIVERGame Association Wants Longer Closed Season on Clams to Protect Spawning Bass.

Twenty cans of black bass fry, or about 500,000 fish in all, have been placed in Rock river by members of the Rock County Game Protective association during the past few days. This is part of the program of the organization to make the river a waterway providing good fishing for the sportsmen of the county.

Back in the early part of May, the association set out over 1,000,000 pike fry. Charles E. Smiley, secretary of the organization, made a trip of inspection the other day and at the four mile bridge found a huge school of the fish now grown to three inches.

Efforts are now being made to get a consignment of fingerling bass fry from the federal government. These will not materialize until next year, however, but assurance has been given that Rock county has been placed on the list as one of the first to get them.

The reason that it has not been had this year is that the call has been so great that there are none left for distribution.

Members of the association plan to petition the state conservation commission to lengthen the closed season on clams for Rock county from June 1 to July 1. The members complain clam diggers in pulling their drags along the bottom of the river, break up the beds of black bass and the fish are spawning and kill the chances of the eggs hatching.

Commission's Previous Action. It is pointed out that the commission has already taken some cognizance of this situation by declaring a closed season on clams until June 1. Commissioner W. E. Barber stated when in the city recently that the purpose of the commission's ruling was to protect spawning fish. The members, however, state that since a closed season was declared on black bass until July 1 because June is spawning time, they cannot understand while the commission did not also lengthen the closed season on clams. They declare that the clam diggers are more dangerous to the bass than any fisherman ever would be.

Unless some action is taken, they say that fishing on the Rock river will be spoiled considerably.

DAINTY NECKWEAR
SHOWS GOOD TASTE

Here is an exquisite collar and cuff set which would be a smart and dainty addition to any woman's wardrobe. It is made of dainty ecru lace with inserts of fine embroidery.

PRICE OF COLLARS
DROPS SLIGHTLY

Following announcement Tuesday of Troy, N. Y., manufacturers that men's collars had been reduced 5 cents, a number of Janesville merchants today sold neckwear at the reduction, 25 cents for starched collars and 30 cents for the soft ones.

After being informed, material in the starched neckwear is of the best linen and of a better quality than that in soft collars, a reported inquiry "why the extra nicker for the cheaper product?" The answer was, demand of the trade, and the backward production of the manufacturers who are far behind on orders.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES
GO ON NEW WAGE
SCALE THIS MONTH

New wage rates for postoffice employees, which went into effect all over the country yesterday, affected only all employees of the local office.

The bill, raising the salaries of all clerks, and city and rural carriers was passed by Congress May 24, giving employees a certain raise, according to the class of postoffice. As the local office is in the $100,000 class, doing that much business during the year, the increases will be considerable. Clerks will now receive from $1400 to $1500 and rural carriers $1500 for 24-mile routes with $30 extra for every mile over the 24.

Today's postal bulletin issues two new rulings which will affect the local office slightly. One is that a storage charge must be received at the rate of 5 cents per day for all packages from foreign countries that remain in the postoffice after a notice has been sent to the addressee. The charge must be paid by the addressee before the package can be secured.

Notice was also issued that liquids may now be sent to Belgium, providing they have the regulation packaging. Until this time, no liquids could be sent to that country, although they could to all other countries.

Ice Cream Sales Here 400 Percent Greater Than During

WHILE Janesville sweaters under the oppressive heat wave, the demand for ice cream and soft drinks mounts accordingly. Two latest quenching trade-marked drinks lead in popularity, local dealers say. Phosphates, lemon and orange, cherry, and pineapple in cool array; tempting fancy sundaes with all the accompaniments of whipped cream, nuts, and fruit; and ice-cold lemonade, grape juice, and old-fashioned lemonade are eagerly consumed.

Vanilla is popular. Plain vanilla ice cream, the old standby, sold by the dish or in larger quantities, is still the biggest seller, outstripping all other flavors combined. Tutti-frutti, strawberry, chocolate, and the delicious combinations of these are next in demand. Fancy sundaes going by names like "Happy Thought" and "Lover's Delight" provoke the imagination to cool, refreshing thoughts. Snow-ball sundaes concluding up its ice an ular con cream, whipped fruits, a topping irresistible, tomer, an ice. Satur day to stores. towns, and no cool p. of Sunday, these ways patron. The consu vinyl sanda per c factu here.

ELWELL MURDER TRAIL LEADS TO "MISS WILSON"

New York, July 2.—Efforts to solve the murder of Joseph Browne Elwell, whist expert, gravitated today toward "Miss Wilson" supposed owner of silk lingerie found in the dead man's bedroom.

Her acquaintance with the sportsman has six times caused her to be questioned by the district attorney. The latest interview was held in order that she might be confronted with a cablegram quoting Anna Kane, Elwell's former housekeeper now in Ireland, as stating that "Miss Wilson" had threatened to shoot Elwell if he deserted her again.

Following the examination District Attorney Swann said "Miss Wilson" had "denied categorically that she had uttered any threat against Elwell."

Oil Boom in Rumania Lacks Push of Activity

Bucharest, Rumania, July 2.—The heavy speculation in oil and oil property now going on in Rumania, expected to continue for at least five years for this country, to properly develop such prospects, the oil production in 1919 was 917,999 tons which was less than 50 per cent of the production of the oil fields. There is considerable pipe line construction. There are about 2,000 tank cars which might be operated. It takes two years to drill a well, it costs ten times as much now as before the war, the oil transportation is bad, and the government puts many restrictions on the export of oil.

News Notes From Movieland

Everyone has been so interested in pretty little Ann May since her recent appearance with Charlie Ray in "Paris Green" that we knew this wanted picture of her would be wanted for that movie scrapbook. For those who do not know much about the little actress here is her brief history:

She was born in Cincinnati, O., in 1901. Now, of course, we've let the cat out of the bag, but one so young really does not mind who knows the fatal date. In 1916 Miss May had finished a course in a school of dramatic art, which shows that she planned for her present career in her early youth. She was connected for some time with the Little Playhouse in Cincinnati and then her screen career began. She played with Goldwyn in "A Marriage for Convenience" and with Metro in "Lombardi, Ltd."

Black, curly, bobbed hair and brown eyes are two of the petite Miss May's chief attractions. Now you know all about her.

ROBERT'S "BIEN" DELINQUENT.

First and foremost let it be known that our own matinee idol, Robert Warwick, goes by the more modest name of Robert Taylor Bien in private life. That is the signature he affixed to the marriage certificate when he took the Miss Arline Fock of Chicago for his domestic partner in March, 1902.

This point being settled, it is hereby recorded that a suit has been filed in the circuit court by Mrs. Arline Bien against Robert Taylor Bien, her divorced husband, for $24,444 back alimony.

The couple were happily wedded five years, then, according to her testimony, in 1909, when her divorce was granted, Bien "wilfully deserted and absented himself" from his wife. The suit went to her by default and she was awarded $3,000 a year alimony. Mrs. Bien alleges that her husband has paid her only $12,500 to date and that he has an annual income of $125,000.

WANTS HART FOR SHERIFF

The popularity of William S. Hart among film patrons was given striking evidence recently when the Democrats of Hood River county Ore., nominated him for sheriff. Five Democrats wrote in the name of the Paramount star on their ballots, and late returns indicate that Hart had received the nomination, as no other Democrat was voted on.

Mr. Hart was not at all hesitant about stating that there was no doubt in his mind but that he could dictate the peace policy of Hood River county with as much aplomb and justice from his home in Los Angeles as he could from the county seat up in Oregon.

Democratic leaders in Oregon are quoted as saying that if Hart would accept the nomination as sheriff the Hood River voters would overwhelm the opposition at election time.

Green Bay Commissioners, Frank Carter and F. E. DeChateau, were in Janesville today collecting data on the city plans as advocated by John Nolen, Boston. They interviewed Mayor Welsh, city department heads and business men. Their city has been presented a cost estimate by Mr. Nolen but they state they believe it expensive. The Janesville plan is fostered by the Chamber of Commerce. It will cost in the neighborhood of $9,000.

King's Jealous Sweetheart Forces U. S. Red Cross Worker Into Exile

New York.—Miss Josephine Marie Kelly of Chicago and New York has been sent to Patras on emergency work for the Red Cross.

This simple announcement by the American Red Cross officials in Athens came during the time that the beautiful young American girl unquestionably stood first in the friendship of King Alexander of Greece, even if she were not actually a sister for her hand. But the full significance of the order to Patras has just been revealed, and it discloses an exceedingly interesting chapter in Miss Kelly's romance with the ruler of the Hellenes.

Of course, Miss Kelly has maintained from the start that she positively was not in love with "Jack," as she called the young king, but an interesting, romantic intrigue just disclosed was related by several young women who have just returned to America, and who were in Athens at the time and had the same entree as Miss Kelly into royal circles and made close-up observations.

Jealous of American "emergency work," they point out, was a successful coup by Anastasia Mano, daughter of an old Greek family, but a "commoner" who was madly in love with King Alexander.

Anastasia, the "plebeian," was just madly jealous of the American beauty, whose coal-black hair, wistful long eyelashes, sky-blue eyes and multiple accomplishments so charmed the monarch. And in Athenian society the Manos was an influential figure, even if they were not of the nobility.

Indeed, it was through Anastasia's sister, one of the most beautiful matrons in Greece, that Miss Kelly first met King Alexander and received bids to appear at the exclusive palace functions.

Little did Anastasia then dream that Miss Kelly would become the almost constant woman companion of the king; would draw him into long conversations for two about the army, politics and subjects all the way down to a technical discussion of the sanitation of Athens. Not could she look ahead and see Miss Kelly at the wheel of the king's snappy motor car for long rides through the countryside.

Uncle Mado Deauld But when their friendship had matured, Anastasia, the story has, began laying the foundations of her coup. It was also about this time that the folk back in America first got an inkling of Miss Kelly's conquest of the Dictator King.

And on her return home Miss Kelly reiterated the denial that anything serious existed between herself and "Jack," adding that she preferred an American for her husband.

But, getting back to the story of Anastasia's coup: The Greek girl took it very seriously. Seeing her popularity with the king waning because of the beautiful American, she conferred with her sister, the popular Athenian matron. As said before, they were very powerful in society of the Greek capital which meant, of course, they knew the official of the American Red Cross.

The American observers assert that a conference was held between the Manos and the Red Cross officials. At any rate, on the eve of the great dinner dance Lord and Lady Granville had planned, and to which both King Alexander and Miss Kelly were invited, came also the order for Miss Kelly to "proceed at once to Patras the port of Athens."

Miss Kelly was greatly disappointed. "Just let me stay until after the big dance," she begged.

The answer was that her services were needed badly and at once in Patras, and that if she did not heed the call, like the good "soldier" she was, she must return forthwith to America.

She went to Patras, and the outstanding feature of the dinner dance given by the English minister and his wife was her conspicuous absence.

But Anastasia was there, in all her beauty and charm. And now Miss Kelly is back in America, with a splendid war record behind her, and the added distinction of having had "a delightful friendship" with the king.

HOME PHONE CO. IS WILLING TO MERGE

Richardson Suggests Plan for Uniting Janesville Exchanges.

Unification of Janesville's two telephone companies by having the Rock County line buy the local assets of the Wisconsin company and giving the latter bonds and some stock in return, was suggested by M. P. Richardson, attorney for the Rock County Telephone company, in an interview today.

He says his company stands ready to complete such a merger and urges businessmen to see if the Bell company will not agree to sell its Janesville exchange to the home company.

Mayor Welsh in a recent communication to the Gazette stated that the unification or consolidation is the only recourse for a solution of the telephone situation in Janesville. The Rock County Telephone company has had this matter of consolidation under consideration for a year or two and has taken it up with the highest officials in the Bell Telephone company, as well as with the United States department of justice.

Clues Kingsbury Letter. "The situation is this: In 1913 the Bell system was used by the government as a monopoly and Mr. Kingsbury, first vice president of the American Telephone and Telephone company, which is the parent Bell company, and which owns a majority of stock in all subsidiary companies, including the Wisconsin Telephone company, in behalf of the Bell system wrote the attorney general a letter known as the 'Kingsbury Commitment.' This letter dated Dec. 19, 1913, states that the Bell system has determined upon the following course of action:

"Neither the American Telephone and Telegraph company nor any other company in the Bell system will hereafter acquire, directly or indirectly, the ownership, control or operation of any other telephone company, owning, controlling or operating any exchange or line which is or may be operated in competition with any exchange or line included in the Bell system, or which constitutes or may constitute a link or portion of any system so operated, or which may be so operated in competition with any exchange or line included in the Bell system."

Approved by Wilson. "The provisions of this letter were approved by the attorney general and by President Wilson himself on the same day that it was written. This 'Kingsbury commitment' is and has been in force at all times since it was made, as we have been informed by the assistant to the attorney general, by Mr. Kingsbury himself and by his successor, E. K. Ives. Mr. Kingsbury having recently died.

"The Wisconsin Telephone company has repeatedly offered to merge with our company on the basis that each company should have stock in a unified company in proportion to its assets in Janesville. The book assets of the Wisconsin company are a little greater than ours and therefore, if their figures are correct, they would have more stock in a unified company than we. But even if we each had 50 percent of the stock, the attorney general would not approve of such a merger because it would be an indirect purchase of our company by the Bell, for the latter company could, of course, easily buy a few shares of some stockholders in the Rock County company and so obtain a majority of stock and control of a unified company. Such a merger is expressly prohibited by the paragraph of the 'Kingsbury commitment.' You will note by such paragraph that the Bell company pledged itself not to acquire 'directly or indirectly' ownership or control over any other telephone company in competition with it.

Would Buy Bell Exchange. "The Wisconsin Telephone company wants such a merger, but as we have shown, it cannot deliver the goods. Therefore, the sooner the people of Janesville realize the situation the better it will be for us all. We can purchase the Janesville assets of the Wisconsin company and give the Wisconsin company bonds and probably some stock in such assets. Such a merger is the only unification which is certain of approval or even possible. We are ready to carry out such a unification, and when Janesville business men have informed themselves of the exact situation, they will realize that there is but one thing to do and that is to urge the Bell company to sell their Janesville exchange to the local company. We all want unification and this is the only way we can get it. All arguments for a merger on any other basis are a waste of time and do not get us anywhere. We believe that the Wisconsin company, which is the parent of such unification when they see that Janesville people want it, and we will have one company in Janesville in which the stock is owned by our people and the bonds by the Wisconsin company."

SALE OF VEHICLES HAVING WIDE METAL TIRES IS STOPPED

No wagon or other wheeled vehicle except animal-drawn pleasure vehicles seating less than eight persons, having metal tires less than three inches in width can be sold in Rock county any longer. This law automatically went into effect yesterday, when the county board failed to legislate against it.

Under the laws of 1919 it was provided that final decision on the matter should rest with each county board and in those counties where no counter-action was taken, the law would stand. The new statute does not mean that any person who now has such a vehicle is prohibited from using it.

The purpose of the law is to do away with these wagons because they have been found to cut up the roads badly and make their passage difficult causing heavy expenditures for repairs.

Manitowish. The 100 houses built during the war by the shipping board for use of employees of the Manitowish shipbuilding company and recently bought from the United States by the shipbuilding company, have again been sold. They have been turned over to the Manitowish Realty company at the price paid for them by the shipbuilding company, $310,000—about half what they originally cost. The contract of sale provided that the houses be sold for $25, $28, $32 for 5, 6 and 7-room houses, respectively and that employees of the shipbuilding company be allowed 30 days to buy homes for themselves at $3,500, $3,700 and $4,000.

Marquette. Mrs. Julia Schultz, aged 70, died at the hospital here. She was the mother of 24 children, only 9 of whom survive. There were three sets of twins. The father died about four years ago.

JANESVILLE NOW HAS RESORT THAT GETS THE PEOPLE

Janesville has the prospect of having one of the most attractive community playgrounds in the state. Riverside Park with its unusually picturesque location promises to develop into a wholesome summer resort. Just how popular it will be depends upon the wisdom of the management and the co-operation of the townspeople. When not carefully managed, amusement parks can easily become public nuisances a menace to the city by inadequate patrolling, lighting and the permitting of indecent dancing, public parks can do more damage than good.

But to the reporter, Riverside Park though still very young, is one of the most promising summer amusement grounds that he has visited. Its location is ideal, just far enough from the city to escape its dust and noise and near enough to be easily accessible, the river, the rolling topography, the trees all lend a natural beauty that "man-made" parks do not usually possess. The problem of transportation has been quite well met by the river boats, the street cars and the automobile busses.

The lighting of a park is of paramount importance. Darkness fosters disorderliness. But Riverside Park is well lighted. The road leading down from the main highway is lighted all the way by incandescent lights. And at intervals throughout the entire park there are electric lights.

At the present time the dance hall is the chief attraction. It is a spacious well built hall, open on all sides. Here is where one finds the biggest part of the crowd. There are old and young. Last night the reporter counted four elderly married couples dancing on the floor beside the 60 or so who were waiting with his ten year old daughter. The crowd was contained and orderly. Not one instance of disorderliness was brought to the reporter's attention. The dancing was far more decent than at the beaches of many of our larger cities. When asked what he thought of the park, the young fellow said, "Well it's a place I wouldn't be afraid to take my sister."

The concessions are yet few. They are of the ordinary carnival variety. But it is said that there is to be a Ferris-wheel and shoot the shoots added.

One of the most anticipated features of the park is the beach. There is a sandy bank that is to be built into a fully equipped beach with raft high dive etc. Such a beach is at the present time much needed. A condition that has been criticized is the lack of policing. Although there is apparently no immediate need for it, there is now no police on the grounds. With this supplied, Janesville will have a safe and pleasant amusement park.

Darlington. The Newman cheese factory, four miles west of this city was burned to the ground and $40,000 worth of cheese that was stored in the cellar was destroyed. The cheese maker and helper who were sleeping upstairs, had a narrow escape.

Remember The Horse-Shoe Tread

At Janesville's Most Dangerous Corner

THE sharp turn at Main and Milwaukee Streets—when the pavement is slippery from rain or ice—there's a real test for tires. Do you turn that corner with confidence when the pavement is wet, or do you "creep up on it"—afraid that your tires might skid? Motorists who drive Horse-Shoe Cords have told us that they turned this corner at 12 to 15 miles an hour all last winter without chains and with no fear of skidding.

Here is a tire that takes hold of the pavement in all kinds of weather. Each little shoe in the Horse-Shoe tread forms a near-vacuum that cleaves noiselessly to the road after the triangular edges of the tread have cleaned and scraped away the moisture.

Many of the world's largest corporations as well as some states and municipalities now use Horse-Shoe Tires exclusively, because they have found from carefully kept records that these tires give more miles of service at a lower cost per mile.

We shall be glad to prove to you by actual tests why the Horse-Shoe Cord is the safest and most economical tire local motorists can buy. Come in and let us give you a free demonstration.
